Mr. C. C. Fowerbaugh

Perhaps no group of individuals in Lakewood realizes more fully the truth of Horace Mann's statement, "What the school is today, democracy will be tomorrow," than do the members of the Lakewood Board of Education, who in these times of stress and uncertainty are unselfishly expending their time and effort to keep our schools functioning. Representing a way of life in which free men control free institutions, they are insuring the continuation of our democracy. Because they realize that their school can only be as strong as its leaders, the students of Lakewood High pay tribute to these citizens.

Lakewood's Administrators

Superintendent Paul A. Rehmus.

Assistant Superintendent S. S. Dickey.

By his interest in the community and his faith in students, Paul A. Rehmus has won an honored place in the heart of Lakewood. The knowledge that he is in charge of our schools makes all of us confident that every student will have the greatest possible opportunity for self-development.

Behind the smooth operation of the Lakewood schools is S. S. Dickey, assistant superintendent in charge of finance and maintenance. Through his efficiency we have comfortable schools, lights to read by, and supplies to work with. This year he has also had charge of government rationing.

During his second year as principal of Lakewood High School, Dr. Vredevoe has continued to show a personal interest in and sympathetic understanding of the students and their activities. Because of his sound advice to the boys in relation to their participation in the war effort, he has gained the admiration of the entire community.

Meeting with Dr. Vredevoe each week are two advisory groups. The faculty group, consisting of the educational counselors, helps to shape the policies of the school. The Executive Council of the Student Council voices student opinion, and their discussions help to solve many problems satisfactorily.

Advisers to Lakewood's Students

Mr. Robert L. Meeks, Assistant Principal.

Miss Lucy Helen Kimball

Robert Meeks, assistant principal, has the immense responsibility of building the program and arranging schedules to the satisfaction of twenty-two hundred pupils. In his work as dean of boys, his just decisions and kindly interest in their welfare command the respect of the students.

One of the busiest persons around our school is Miss Lucy Helen Kimball, who, as dean of girls, is a helpful influence on the lives of many students. Miss Kimball advises Student Council, Activities Council, and Friendship Club. She also is active on the P. T. A. and Y. W. C. A. boards.

The Student Council

As a training ground for the citizens of the future, the Student Council is invaluable. The Student Council, composed of home room representatives, is organized into working committees: the tax stamp committee collects tax stamps, investing the money in War Bonds to be used to build the recreational cabin in the future; the library committee assists in the library; and the Executive Council, composed of the officers and committee chairmen, supervises the functioning of the council. Other important committees that are managed by the Student Council are law, public welfare, council duties, recreation, and safety. These committees assist in making our school operate smoothly and efficiently.

Office

Keeping Lakewood High School running smoothly are many people with whom the students come in contact only occasionally. Miss Sigler, who keeps the records; the office girls, who manage the clerical routine; Miss Hobson and Mr. Jessup, who give us our absence permits; and Mrs. Simpson in the book room—all play an important part in the life of the school.

Placement

Because the demand for high school students for essential war industries has increased, Mrs. Stewart, our placement director, has been exceedingly busy. She also is carrying on her usual work of providing vocational information and aiding students to make an "A" on those all-important first interviews with prospective employers.

The Library

Through books the cherished beliefs and aspirations of man have been handed down from one generation to another. Christopher Morley said recently, "If you have time for nothing else, listen to what Chaucer, Matthew Arnold, and Rudyard Kipling have to say about our immediate problems." These writers gave literary form to all the ideals for which we stand and for which we are fighting. The trail of Nazi occupation in Europe has been marked by flames from the burning books which Hitler feared for thoughtful men to read. Knowing this, we may better appreciate the value of our school library, wherein one may find pleasure as well as knowledge. Here in the heart of our school we read and learn under the helpful supervision of Miss Findley and Miss Stockwell.

Today's Issues Are Clarified b

Books provide one of our most worthwhile means of enjoyment as well as a source of knowledge. Who hasn't laughed at the amusing antics of such fictional characters as Huck Finn or Tom Sawyer, cried for Little Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," jeered Mr. Hyde, or applauded Sherlock Holmes? Learning to enjoy and appreciate literature is important in our English work.

Mr. Clarence C. Hanna, Department Head

Familiarity with the literary masters of England and America enables one to understand the ideals of our democracy as they have come to us through the years. Such men as Milton, Ruskin, Paine, Jefferson, Newman, and Browning have left us a record of man's desire for freedom and his growth toward those ideals which we are striving to preserve today.

Studying the Classics in English

At no other time in history has the ability to express oneself accurately and precisely been so important as now. The foundation of the democratic process is discussion, and essential to that discussion through which men attempt to understand each other and to solve their common problems is a clear, accurate expression of one's ideas. A way of life in which free speech is one of the foundation stones demands a mastery of language; for a "persuasive and explanatory tongue is one of the chief levers of life." The work of the English Department is organized to give the student an opportunity to develop his skill in the art of communication. In the required courses in composition frequent practice is given in oral and written expression. Elective courses make their contributions: public speaking and dramatics develop poise; debate sharpens the mind; short story develops creative abilities; journalism demands accuracy. This training in logical thinking and expression is fundamental in the schools of a democracy.

English Council

Representatives from each English class make up the membership of the English Council. Service is the chief purpose of the organization, although book reviews, spell-downs, and quizzes provide entertaining meetings. Collecting books for the less fortunate mountain children of the South, filing the records of outside reading for the English classes, and publishing the handbook, "The English Counsellor," comprise the main duties of the group.

Whitman - Scriblerus - Thespian

Wishing to gain a better understanding of the entire field of English, the Whitman, Scriblerus, and Thespian groups merged into one club, W. S. T. Whitman sponsors budding young poets, aspiring authors enroll in Scriblerus, and students interested in drama turn to Thespian. Programs dealing with its special activity are sponsored by each group.

Fundamental Laws in Science

The present heavy demand for students with scientific backgrounds will not end with the war. Those who have a knowledge of biology and physiology will be especially necessary for the physical rehabilitation of the people of the occupied countries. Chemists and physicists will be called upon to assist in the rebuilding of war-shattered nations. New and cheaper materials and machines will be their gifts to the grateful post-war world.

One of the most valuable services performed by any club at Lakewood High School is that of the Projectionists, for they make "seeing is believing" more than a mere axiom. Aerodynamics or Victory Gardens

Lakewood High is preparing students for scientific vocations with courses in pre-flight aeronautics, radio communications, chemistry, and horticulture. Aeronautics students can identify planes and are learning the theory of flight. The goal of the radio classes is to be able to send and receive code at a speed of thirteen words per minute. Students from the horticulture classes will have fine victory gardens this summer after their experiences in the school gardens and greenhouse.

Future Engineers Put The

Mathematics to Work

In this mechanized era a knowledge of mathematics is necessary in order to understand the world in which we live. Whether the problem is the construction of a battleship or the removal of stamps from a ration book, the ability to work with figures is indispensable. Designers of planes must be accurate in their figuring, and pilots must be thoroughly acquainted with trigonometry to navigate their craft. With larger classes than ever before, the Mathematics Department is fitting Lakewood students to live in our modern world.

Understanding World Neighbors I

Emphasized in Our Language Study

We in the United States, isolated as we used to be, have never felt a pressing need for more than one language, while the peoples of Europe, where countries of different languages have always touched each other, must of necessity speak many tongues. Now, however, the need for many languages has at last come to us—via the airplane, the steamship, and now the new highway linking us with South America and Alaska.

Students at Lakewood High School have ample opportunity to gain a foundation in the foreign languages, for the curriculum offers four important languages—Latin, a basic tongue, and French, German, and Spanish, significant in present world affairs.

An increased interest in South America and an attractive program of dances, lectures, and movies have made the Spanish Club one of the most popular in school.

Recognizing the importance of France and the French language today and in the post-war world, members of Le Cercle Francais are striving to promote a better understanding of the language, customs, and ideals of the French people. Every year a luncheon is held at a French cafe, where the members have an opportunity to practice their newly-acquired language.

Hi-Forum

Realizing the importance of open discussion in solving problems in a democratic world, the Hi-Forum Club provides an opportunity for analysis and debate on current national and international questions. One semester of this year was devoted principally to the study and understanding of India, her people, and her relationships with England. After a talk by Shanti Bahadur, a native of India, the club staged a student forum concerning that country. Post-war problems, geo-politics, and the 1944 presidential campaign created heated discussions.

Seeing Makes Believing Easier in Social Studies

This year we are learning more about the present as well as more about the past. We have a double job now, studying history that is already in books along with that which is rapidly being made. It has come home to us with force that we cannot neatly pigeon-hole this subject with the terms "modern" and "ancient," for the study of human events, we believe, is a continuous serial story, the next chapter of which is always being written while we are still on the last one, and like a serial story, each episode is dependent upon the preceding one.

Practical Training Prepare

Students for Commerce Careers

Wartime demands for trained office workers have strained the capacity of the Commercial Department. Direct training in such vocational skills as shorthand, typing, and the use of office machines is one of the objects of the department. Helpful in any business or profession is a knowledge of the fundamentals of bookkeeping, business law, and business organization.

Hi-Commercial Club

The Hi-Commercial Club is more than a social organization, for it gives its members additional knowledge and skill in commercial work. Speakers from accredited commercial schools and from local business concerns appear on their programs. Hi-Commercial Club members render service to the school by typing copy for the Times and doing typing and mimeograph work for teachers. By devoting their extra time to these projects, they gain valuable experience in the field in which they have a vocational interest.

No Errors for Office Practice A's

"I'm sorry, but there are no more graduating commercial students available for jobs," Mrs. Grace Stewart, our placement director, might have said early last January to employers seeking office help. All students in secretarial work are required to take office practice, which gives them a sound background in business methods. Here they get fine experience in handling ditto and mimeograph machines, adding machines, ediphones, and doing practical work with typewriters. This is the modern means of commercial education.

Problems of Rationing and Wartime Nutrition

Are Solved in the Home Economics Classes

Nutrition is playing a strategic role in our war effort, for not only must our soldiers be fed, but the good health of the nation has to be maintained despite food shortages and rationing. Because nutrition is so vital, the foods classes are diligently learning the best methods for preparing foods in order to retain their vitamin content, planning balanced menus, and then applying their knowledge in the laboratories.

Not only are the girls creating new garments in the clothing classes, but they also are studying methods of conserving and remodeling their present wardrobes. In addition, courses in home making, handicrafts, and general home economics provide training in various fields.

Junior Red Cross

The Lakewood High Junior Red Cross, organized before Pearl Harbor to aid refugees and war sufferers by sending bundles to Britain and making garments, is now playing a vital part in the war effort at Lakewood High. This organization has salvaged metal coat hangers, made war stamp corsages, and sent cheer boxes to soldiers. The Red Cross is now sponsoring a first aid course and is also filling ditty bags which will be sent to the service men in the United States. This group has worked diligently and tirelessly in order to give aid and cheer to men in the service of our country and to people in need.

Girls Develop Skills for Hobbies, Homemaking

One of the most popular courses in the Home Economics Department is handicrafts. The click of knitting needles, the thump of the handloom, and the general buzz of interesting activity make Room 101 a fascinating place. This year as their projects the girls majoring in home economics redecorated the suite and visited the kindergarten to study child care. In keeping with the times the courses in the department include units on conservation with instructions for mending and laundering clothes to make them last for the duration.

Good Craftsmanship and Originality

Are Very Essential in Applied Art

Because art often reflects the spirit of the times, our own art department this year has produced murals and paintings revealing the influence of world affairs. However, the cultural values of art are stressed by the department and the classes provide not only a vocational background, but a foundation for richer living as well.

Students have many opportunities to put their skill to practical use in decorations for school parties, posters, cartoons, and contests. One of the projects of the 11-A commercial art class for the year has been the murals which are appearing in this book. The excellence of the department is traditional, for every year new honors come to Lakewood High School with the scholarships and prizes won here.

Behind the scenes at every production there are certain unknown elements without which the production could not take place. Every performance on our stage, amateur or professional, requires work by our stage staff. Anything from a speaker's microphone to the walls of a house must be produced by these boys. Too often overlooked, these boys work early and late with only the satisfaction of seeing "the play go on" as a reward.

Opportunities for Self-Expression

Are Provided in the Music Groups

"Without a song the day will never end" for the members of Lakewood High School's various musical organizations: the band, the orchestra, glee clubs, and a cappella choirs. Whether singing, playing an instrument, composing music, or merely listening, the students derive much pleasure from musical activity. The Lakewood High School Music Department ably serves these students by acquainting them with the principles of music, the only universal tongue. By learning how to express their inner selves, they are contributing to the cultural advancement of civilization.

During past years the musical organizations have led the school to undisputed honors in city and Lake Erie League festivals and contests. Transportation difficulties this year have curtailed the contests, but these groups are making their contribution to the war effort by playing and singing at various meetings in Greater Cleveland. These democratically conducted organizations are steadily rising in popularity with the students. At present there are eleven music classes conducted by Mr. Arthur Jewell, Mr. T. R. Evans, and Mr. J. C. McCollum. Such opportunities have fostered a love for music and an appreciation of its place in our culture.

To these diligent members there is no greater satisfaction than the correct interpretation of a song. The choir has access to the finest choral music that the

at War Demands Technicians

Pearl Harbor and the requirements of total war have turned our attention to industry and to our technical department, which offers many courses for teaching industrial skills. By handling lathes, repairing autos, making castings, making and reading blueprints, the boys gain actual experience in work which they will do later in industry. Besides gaining this valuable training, the boys in the technical classes make definite contributions to the school. Chemistry sheets, permits, and report cards are printed; and much of the stage equipment and props, as well as book cases and tables, are made in the advanced woodworking classes.

Auto Club

Driver education is an important step toward making Lakewood a safer place. For the last few years Lakewood High School has offered driving classes and an Auto Club sponsored by the AAA. This year the classes have attracted a number of students who wish to do their bit by driving for the Red Cross or the AWVS.

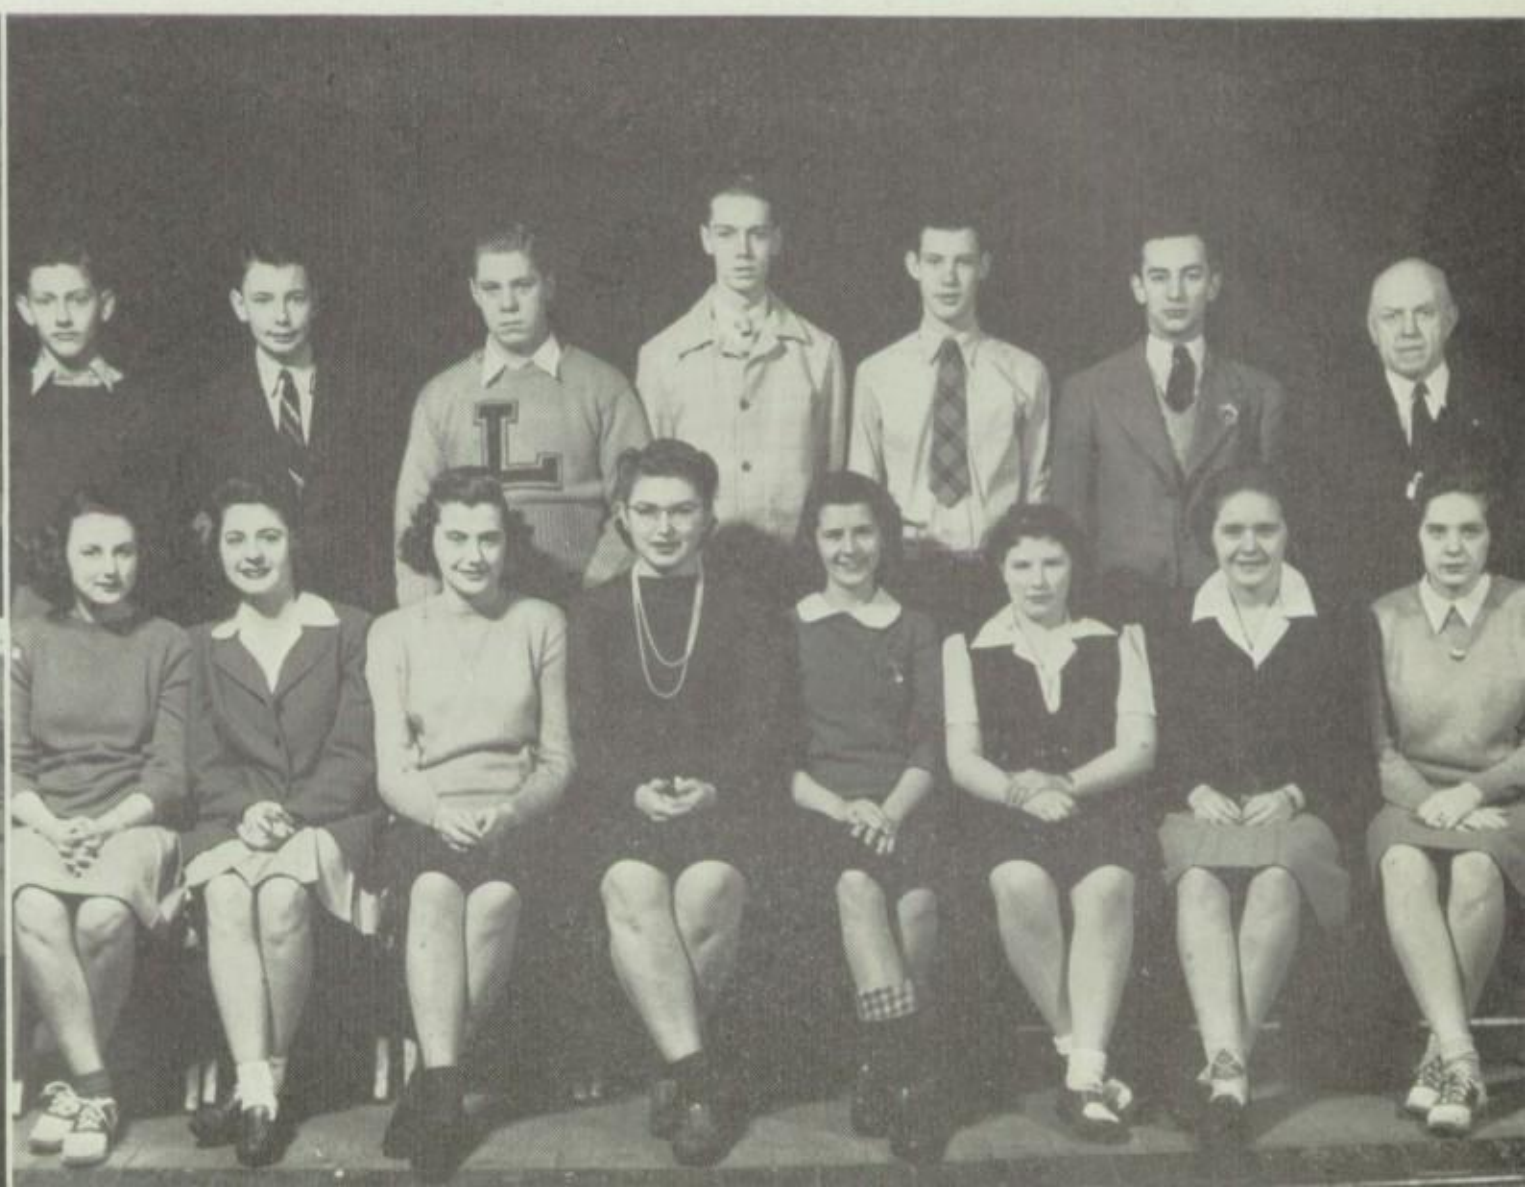

To be a member of the Auto Club, it is not necessary to take auto driving, but every member of the driving classes does automatically become a member of the club. Consequently, this extracurricular activity is closely related to the classroom, where A. K. Cook teaches classes of five students at a time the elements and finer points of driving. In past semesters, pioneers in driver education, automobile dealers, and men from the AAA in Washington have all appeared before the Auto Club to increase the drivers' knowledge of their cars and how to use them. Whenever a good movie on automobiles or safety becomes available, it is sponsored by this group. In the lighter mood of fun, members hold a successful party each term.

Training Make Up Our Health Program

Health has always been important in our life at Lakewood High School, but military requirements and the demands of war production and civilian defense have focused attention on the work of our health staff. The physical education teachers, Miss Betts, the cafeteria manager, and Mrs. Garrett, our nurse, have doubled their efforts to keep up fit, as sore muscles and improved health bear witness.

Boys Physical Education

This year the keynote of the boys physical education classes is the development of physical strength and co-ordination to prepare for a war-time life. From the jungles of Guadalcanal to the deserts of Tripoli, their lives will depend on their superior strength and intelligence. Under the able direction of Coaches Corneal, Ness, and Linden, the boys of Lakewood High School are undergoing a rigorous program of training. Every boy who is able now has gym or swimming five times a week. A period of gym might consist of the following: ten minutes of strenuous calisthenics or tumbling, fifteen minutes of relay running or jumping hurdles, and five minutes on the track inside. In fair weather, the outside track and a new obstacle course, built to simulate difficulties of a battle-torn terrain, are used. These courses are built around the need for a balanced diet of study and exercise. Girls Physical Education

This year the physical education program for girls has been accelerated so that each girl has physical education each day in the week. The girls learn marching formations, how to judge distances, and to obey commands. The directed calisthenics have been planned to strengthen the muscles and enable the girls to stand up in endurance tests. After these exercises every girl has the opportunity to take a shower in the new shower room. Physical fitness is an important part of our nation's program, important to all of us, today and tomorrow.

Besides the regular physical education program, a girl also may participate in extra sports and tournaments held in the gym after school hours. A girl doesn't need to be a star in order to join one of these groups, where study and practice help perfect techniques. This year a system is being set up giving points for participation in these activities and for passing tests of skill. These points will be applied toward a gym letter similar to the letter given to the boys as a reward for participation in inter-scholastic sports.

Life-saving and rescue courses give them a practical knowledge of what to do and how to do it when the time comes. Tankateers is made up of expert swimmers, and to see the "Tanks" in action is proof of their ability. Individual growth through group activity is the basis on which the club is organized.

Cafeteria

Serving eighteen hundred students every day was never a small task, but with rationing and shortages here for the duration, Miss Betts and her staff have had to muster every bit of their nutritional knowledge to provide us with the necessary vitamins and minerals. With remarkable success, they have not only been able to fulfill essential needs, but have kept up the fine quality of their cookery as well.

Though chocolate milk and a number of meats have practically disappeared, such ingenious concoctions as nut croquettes are appearing on our menus.

Lakewood High School has been made a refugee center in case of air attack or other civilian disaster. To Miss Betts, this has meant preparing emergency menus and food orders.

Honor Society

Outstanding senior honor is being named to the National Honor Society. After three years of endeavor, students possessing outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service are thus recognized and rewarded. Members are chosen by the faculty from the upper third of the graduating class, the decisions being announced in a special assembly in the first semester and on Honor Day in May in the second semester. The new members may then wear the emblem of the society, the torch and keystone. This year the group assisted the faculty in both mileage and point rationing.

Home Room Activities

The organization of Lakewood High School centers in the home room. Here the routine business of the student body is carried on. The home room period affords an opportunity for the teacher to know small groups of students well and to fit the curriculum to the need of the individual. The home room teacher is the student's adviser and counselor and helps him to solve his problems.

During the home room period, interesting and educational assemblies are presented. This year we enjoyed amateur programs presented by the students, "The Messiah," given by the Music Department, a civilian defense program dramatized by the Newton Society and Captain A. C. Kanaar of the Royal Air Medical Corps, who was in the retreat at Dunkirk. Our citation assemblies are looked forward to by everybody and the Honor Day assembly held outside in the spring is the climax of the year's activities.

The Year in Review

Bill Trace and Barbara Eicher, 12-A officers, admire Ed Fisher's originality in depicting Lakewood's war effort.

Interscholastic Sports at Lakewood

The advisability of continuing interscholastic athletics during this war period has created much debate. The athletic directors of Lakewood High School are strongly in favor of continuing our interscholastic program. Coach George D. Corneal states: "Such sports develop competitive spirit and the finest type of conditioning needed for good soldiers." Coach Ralph E. Ness said: "Competition keeps the boys in shape through an activity in which they are interested." Consequently competitive sports have been continued in the health and conditioning program of Lakewood High School.

Lake Erie League Football Champions

Lake Erie League champions! The Golden Avalanche! The best Lakewood team since the Lakewood Tornadoes! One of the outstanding teams in the city and state! A real powerhouse!

Such were the acclamations gathered by the varsity football squad last fall. Winning eight out of nine games, the players showed true fighting spirit in their successful attempt to take our first undisputed Lake Erie League title. Hard drive, sheer determination to win, a never-say-die spirit, and the willingness to co-operate enabled this team, typical of the teams coached by Ralph Ness, to win the coveted title.

Football Highlights for '42

In the opening game with Berea the Purple gave the first indications of the strength that won them the title, "The Golden Avalanche." Scoring at will, Gruss accounted for four touchdowns in the 58-0 victory. Cleveland Heights was the first Lake Erie League opponent. With Pavlus scoring twice on short steady drives, the team prolonged their winning streak 20-0. Elyria offered more opposition, but Henry carried us through to a 13-0 win. In Shaw we met unexpectedly our toughest league competition, but Kevesdy broke up their attack and Henry crossed their goal for a 7-0 decision. A complete rout on a muddy field was our 33-0 victory over West. In the long awaited game with Lorain, attended by 9,000 fans, Lakewood proved their strength by thrashing the Steelmen, 19-0, Duncan and Steigerwald playing brilliantly. Shaker Heights was the first team to cross our goal line as we won our final league game and the championship, 32-6. Then, at beautiful Fawcett stadium on a frigid day in November, Canton McKinley broke our winning streak of 21 games by a 28-6 score. In spite of our defeat, Duncan, Shestina, Mathie, Cole, and Lynsky deserve recognition for their flawless playing. To end the season successfully, we defeated West Tech, traditional Turkey Day rival, 13-6.

Junior Varsity Football

Pronounced by Coach Russ Linden one of the best teams he has ever handled, the sophomores ran rough-shod over all opponents. Winning seven games and losing none, a well-rounded backfield and a hard-charging line chalked up 171 points against their opponents' 20. Undefeated this year as well as during their season last year as Purple Pups, this well-balanced team with such outstanding players as Burson, Melzer, Verdova, McMahon, and Kiser gives promise of future championships for the school.

For the third successive year, the basketball team has captured the Lake Erie League crown. Continuing their brilliant play into the Class A tournament, the cagers lost their district title bid in a bitterly-fought contest. The boys won fourteen games and lost three, an outstanding record. In league competition, the team won nine games and lost but one. Coach Jerry Ross molded this fine team from such excellent material as Bob Brown, Foster Kiser, Paul Rundell, Jim Poole, Don Burson, Derril Wasco, Tom Cole, Bill Lestock, Howie Duncan, Craig Fenton, and Ed Gdovin.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Lakewood High School sport fans watch the junior varsity teams with keen interest each year, for here future varsity material is uncovered. Such basketball players as Kiser, Neverman, Yensho, and Edstrom began their careers on the junior varsity squad. As usual much promising talent was found among the sophomores this year. Although they won six games and lost as many this season, the junior varsity won the majority of the contests scheduled with their future Lake Erie League foes. With graduation creating several openings on next year's varsity, these boys expect to see plenty of action.

Track

With a brilliant nucleus returning from last year's squad, Coach George Corneal is anticipating another successful season. Thinclads hoping to emulate last year's success are Bill Humphrey, Ed Reilly, Norm Shogren, Foster Kiser, Bill Bartlett, Vince Karliak, and Sheldon Bergman.

The team started the season in fine fashion by taking second place in the Ohio Wesleyan relays on April 24.

Cross-Country

Running only the district meet this year, the cross-country team still proved their superiority, for they won this meet for the third consecutive year. For the second consecutive year, Bill Bartlett came in first, and his team gave him adequate support. Coach Watters molded a fine team with such boys as Bartlett, Karliak, Anders, Whitaker, the Storey twins, and Usiak. Even though only one meet was scheduled, the boys practiced for several weeks, having weekly time runs. Congratulations for such endurance!

 Row 4—Coach Linden, Borofka, Eggleston, Kelly, Shakespeare, Norton, Rehms, Paisley, Mulligan.

Swimming

Taking championships and breaking records have become an ordinary routine for the swimming team. Coach Russell Linden's mermen once more won the Lake Erie League title, became city champs by winning the city meet at Fenn pool, and took second place in the state meet at Columbus, missing the title by only four points. The swimmers also won six out of seven dual meets. Eighteen records were broken by freestylers Jere Sullivan and John Kelly, backstroker Irv Norton, diver Bob Ruth, the medley relay team, and the freestyle relay team.

Row 1—McIntyre, Gelbach, Kuhles, McCourt, MacKay.

Baseball

Although the baseball team of last season met with moderate success, an early view of the present semester's squad encourages the anticipation of a better ending this year. Coach Ralph Ness has several boys returning from last year's team around which to shape a successful outfit for this season. These boys include Bill Trace, Don Burson, Bill Lestock, and Bob Brown. At press time the team has just begun their indoor practice. In a league composed of West Side teams, Lakewood plays a schedule of approximately a dozen games.

Wrestling

With such boys as Fulton, Rayman, and Melick leading the squad, Coach Ness' grapplers broke their losing streak this season. Enthusiastic matmen predict an even better team next fall.

Fencing

With a new instructor, Mr. Charles Galanie, and an experienced team returning, the fencers anticipate a successful season. To date, the team has won one of its two matches through the brilliant play of Art Koenig.

The tennis team won three of five meets, displaying a challenging spirit throughout the season. Captain Jack Tanis led the capable squad, coached by Mr. Wernicke.

“L” Club was founded many years ago as an honorary association for athletic students. To qualify for this organization each member must have been either a member of a major athletic team, which includes track, basketball, and football, or a member of a championship minor team. Ways and means of sponsoring athletic events and promoting school enthusiasm for them are discussed during the weekly meetings of the club.

Part of the largest organized religious group of high school boys in the world, the Hi-Y meets each week to hear speakers from the community and to discuss the problems of a world at war. Working with the Greater Cleveland Hi-Y Council to sponsor a St. Valentine's Day ball for war relief and participating in Inter-Hi-Y sports are some of the lighter activities of the past year. Serious discussion seasoned with fun makes Hi-Y worthwhile to its members.

Junior Hi-Y

The boys in the Junior Hi-Y, who are taking their second step in the Hi-Y organizations at Lakewood High School, are pledged by the Hi-Y creed to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and the community high standards of Christian character. Following the tradition, this year the "Y" organizations brought Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, nationally known speaker, to the school to address students and confer with them about their personal problems.

This year, because of the increased interest in the Hi-Y organizations, a new sophomore chapter was started at Lakewood High School. Before long the popularity of this club increased to such proportions that it became necessary to organize a second sophomore section. The aim of each of these clubs is to build character and leadership in all of its members so that they will be able to promote the "Y" spirit throughout the entire community.

Friendship Club

"Friendship Looks to the Future" is the theme of this year's activities as the girls plan for a time when every girl will be the ideal American girl, a well-equipped member of the better world which is to come.

Friendship Club, open to all Lakewood High School girls, is organized in interest groups. Besides being a member of the entire club, each girl finds her special niche among the interest groups, and she may also join Ring Group and earn the Girl Reserve ring. It's fun to make a fortune or get an education, but most of all, it's fun to make a friend. Working together, laughing together, and learning together is their formula for making that friend.

Writing the Tribune, a monthly bulletin; designing posters, place cards, and the cover of the Tribune; preparing Thanksgiving baskets and gifts for the sick; planning skating, swimming, and hiking parties; arranging dinners; entertaining with music and plays; planning the main meetings; or earning a Girl Reserve ring—in one of these activities every girl will find an interest for the year.

Lakewood's War Effort

Students of today must realize that they have a dual task—actively participating in the war effort and preparing to shoulder their responsibilities in the democracy of tomorrow. The Victory Committee, consisting of ten active members under the leadership of Mr. John Cantrell, was organized for the purpose of sponsoring activities connected with our winning the war.

Students Bring in the Scrap

A scrap metal drive in the fall was managed successfully in collaboration with the national drives at that time. Old keys, light bulbs, and lipstick cases were among the materials collected throughout the year for salvage purposes. Miss Dawson and her committee of students directed the weekly sale of war stamps and bonds in the home rooms. Selling enough stamps to pay for three jeeps was the goal of the special drive in November, but the sale was so successful that Lakewood High paid for not three but eight jeeps. The Junior Red Cross sponsored the sale of war-stamp corsages at school events. Classes in Junior Red Cross staff training and first aid were provided. Newton Society sponsored an assembly illustrating Civilian Defense methods. Air raid drills were held periodically. The Camouflage Club, directed in its initial year by Mrs. Mary Rash, discussed various techniques of camouflage. Both the students and faculty worked efficiently during mileage and point rationing registration. These are only a few of the ways in which Lakewood High students are working to hasten the day of victory.

Social Program

Seasoning the strenuous tasks of a war year filled with scrap drives, rationing, five days of gym, and home work in an accelerated program were the dances and banquets on our social calendar. To start the year off in good style, the annual Campus Frolic was attended by 1,115 guests "on the green." The school gardens were opened to activity-sponsored booths. The "Witches' Brawl" on Hallowe'en included square dancing, as well as ballroom dancing; and queer-looking creatures were awarded prizes for originality of costume. Queen Joan Wheeler and King Norv Mathie were crowned with ceremony, as the Lake Erie League champion football team was honored at the Victory Ball in November. For those who enjoyed "dressing-up," the senior prom in January and June were the special occasions. The Mid-Year Frolic in February afforded the usual merriment in a brilliant setting appropriate to Valentine's Day. The dance in April was given in honor of the basketball team. In May the Activities Dance, sponsored by all of the school organizations, provided a climax to the year's extra-curricular activities.

We served you well in years before,
 We serve you even though
 Some supplies we have no more
 And some are getting low.

So please buy only what you need
 In paper, film, and such,
 And we will do our best for you,
 Though we haven't very much.
